S. Wise, J. J. Raine, J. D. Parker and C. W. Batchelor arrived from Memphis this morning. Captain Batchelor continued on his way to Pittsburg. They all had a fine time, and agree that the Memphis affair was the grandest they ever saw, and far exceeded their expectations. They are enthusiastic over the treatment they received at the hands of General Greene and others, and speak in favorable terms of the orderly conduct that A press dispatch from St. Louis yesterday details another steamboat disaster as follows: "The steamer Colossal, lying at the foot of Lesperance street, was discovered on fire twelve o'clock last night. The flames spre in spite of the exertions of the fire depart-ment, and the boat was burned to the water's edge. Captain Henry Schwartz is the sole owner. The boat was valued at twelve thousand dollars, and is insured in Cincinnational offices for six thousand dollars. She was lying at the bank without a cargo, awaiting repairs. The origin of the fire is a mystery. The Cincinnati Times thus apostrophizes Captain John Cannon's new boat now in pro-cess of building at Jeffersonville: "This steamer will carry the palm for elegance on high and roomy, with three-feet skylights, ernated in squares and circles of groun appear fine oil-paintings. Her staterooms which are twelve feet deep, are being fres ped and decorated with oil paintings, in the ighest style of the Italian art. Her cabin i being built with a magnificent promenade, which extends to her jackstaff. The uphol-stering and furniture, which has been confor, is of the most sumptuous order She will be a floating palace, indeed, the coa of which will approximate one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, a good sum of money for a steamboat in these times of cheap material and labor. Captain Cannon's boat, owever, will have a queenly reign of shor uration, if we are to believe the magnificent escription (to be) of Captain Tobin's new steamer, just commenced at Jeffersonville When this vessel turns her wheels on th Mississippi river, it is claimed she will be without a peer in point of beauty and elegance on western rivers."

fever and ague, and its congener, bilious remitten esides affections of the stomach, liver and bowels produced by miasmatic air and water, are both eradmany others, than any medicine of the age. A la guid circulation, a torpid state of the liver, a want of vital stamina, are conditions peculiarly favorable to malarial diseases. They are, however, surely remedied by the great Preventive, which, by invigorating the system and endowing it with regularity as well as vigor, provides it with a resistant power which enables it to withstand disorders not only of a malarial type, but a host of others to which feeble and illregulated systems are subject. The Bitters are a safe, as well as searching eradicant, and have widely superseded that dangerous drug, quinine, which pailiates, but does not eradicate maiaria. ld circulation, a torpid state of the liver, a want o
